German Raider Off Brazil Is Sunk by United States Plane

Resentment of Brazil People Against Nazi 'Piracy' Growing

BULLETIN
Rio de Janeiro, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The newspaper O Globo reported today that planes had sunk a second axis submarine off Bahia.

(By The Associated Press)
First confirmation of reports that a German surface raider was loose in the South Atlantic came today when the Navy released the stories of survivors of a medium-sized U. S. merchant vessel, at the same time, it was announced at Rio de Janeiro that a United States bomber sank an axis submarine in Brazilian waters where five ships of the biggest South American country were torpedoed recently.

The U. S. Navy also announced today a second sinking—that of a small British merchant vessel torpedoed and attacked by a submarine early in July in the Atlantic off the northern coast of South America. There were 41 survivors in the crew of 44.

This brought the Associated Press tabulation of announced sinkings in the western Atlantic since Pearl Harbor to 436. The vessel sunk by a raider was not included since the attack took place in the eastern Atlantic.

Word of the raider's existence came also from Rio de Janeiro where a naval ministry spokesman said it had been sighted 1,000 miles off the Brazilian mainland several days ago.

Five-Hatch Vessel
Survivors of the American ship said at an Atlantic port that the German ship, obscured by the darkness, appeared to be a five-hatch cargo ship.

(Maritime men in New York said this was the average number of hatches, or deck openings to the cargo hold, for about a 7,000-ton gross ship.)

The second officer of the ship, who said at least 15 of his crewmates were killed by shells or machine gun fire, said about 20 other men were made prisoner.

The captain, who like the second officer, is a naturalized German-American, said he believed that the raider had at least six guns and that some of her armament was of eight-inch caliber.

The attack took place in mid-July off the west coast of Africa.

"AT GATES OF WAR"

Rio de Janeiro, Aug. 19.—(AP)—All Brazilian soldiers on leave were recalled urgently to duty today and the navy forbade furloughs for regular reserves as this nation, at the "gates of war," hastened steps to meet the threat of axis submarines that recently sank five Brazilian coastal ships.

One of the submarines lurking off these coasts was destroyed by a United States plane, a Brazilian office announced.

It was learned authoritatively that two submarines had been located at widely separated positions in the western Atlantic and that one was of enormous size.

Meanwhile a merchant marine spokesman said all Brazilian coastal waters were clear of shipping and that 13 ships which were in the submarine zone had reached ports safely.

The first official word of the sinking came from Commander Ernani A. R. Amaral Peixoto federal liaison officer in the state of Rio de Janeiro, who told a crowd gathered before the presidential palace that one of the undersea raiders had been destroyed.

Government press department and other accounts: slightly different versions gave this version of the attack:

Version of Attack
The submarine was sighted 50 miles off Brazil's coast by a United States plane piloted by Capt. Jack Lacey. The plane dived, machine-gunned the submarine and forced it to the surface with bombs when it attempted to submerge.

The Diario Carioca, quoting authorized sources, said the submarine was destroyed.

Loss of 2 British Warships Revealed; On Convoy Duty

London, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The anti-aircraft cruiser Cairo and the destroyer Foresight were sunk during the recent convoy operations in the Mediterranean, the admiralty announced today.

Previously the admiralty had announced the sinking of the aircraft carrier Eagle and the cruiser Manchester. The four ships were the total warship losses for the British in the extensive convoy operations to supply and reinforce Malta, the admiralty said.

The communicate said the admiralty would not divulge the number of ships in the convoy or the number of ships which arrived at Malta because "the extent of reinforcement which has been received by the fortress of Malta is obviously information of considerable importance to the enemy."

The Cairo, completed in 1919, was an old 4,200-ton cruiser which had been rearmored in 1939 for anti-aircraft duty. She carried a normal crew of 400 men.

The Foresight, completed in 1935, was 1,350-ton destroyer capable of better than 36 knots.

The admiralty said it was natural that in such a hazardous operation "some losses were suffered in the convoy."

The fact that the loss of life and damage was not greater was due to the gallantry of the RAF crews and the seamanship of the sailors, the communicate added.

The communicate said that at least 66 axis aircraft were certainly destroyed during the fight over the convoy.

The British lost eight aircraft, but four of the pilots were saved.

Salesman Robbed of $30,000 in Jewelry in Rockford's Loop

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 19.—Police in the Rockford area today searched for two gunmen described by the chauffeur for a jewelry salesman as having kidnapped and robbed him of diamonds valued by the salesman at $30,000.

Robert Stock, 19, driver for J. A. Ruvelson of St. Paul, Minn., reported the two men, armed with revolvers, abducted him in Ruvelson's automobile, which was parked in the downtown district late yesterday while the salesman called on customers. Stock said he was driven several miles southwest of Rockford before he was released.

Ruvelson's automobile was later found abandoned on a Rockford street.

$2,600 Jewel Robbery Reported in Chicago

Chicago, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Meyer Gold, restaurant owner of Chicago, reported to police that he and Miss Sonia Kondrat, a saleswoman, were robbed early today of jewelry they valued at $2,600.

Gold told police three robbers stopped them as they were about to drive into a garage on the north side. He said they forced both to get out of the automobile, but then ordered Miss Kondrat to reenter and drove off. Miss Kondrat was released three blocks away.

Gold said he lost a diamond ring valued at $1,400 and his companion two rings and a wrist watch valued at $1,200.

Ten Negroes Charged With Rape in New York

New York, Aug. 19.—(AP)—A young white woman victim charged that a Negro stood guard with a bare knife while other Negroes attacked her. Ten have been charged with rape in the case.

Questioned at police lineup today, Earl Long, 16, one of the prisoners, said: "Sure, I raped her."

Asked by Inspector Joseph Donovan how many other women he had criminally assaulted, he replied: "I couldn't begin to count them all."

Paw Paw, Aug. 19.—Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rhoads of northwest Paw Paw received a telegram Tuesday afternoon announcing that their son, Arthur, almost 26, U. S. Besides his parents the young man is survived by four brothers, George, Wilbur, Vernon and Wilson, all of whom are married and live near here.

Navy Announces 23 Enemy Ships Sunk or Damaged Off Alaska

U. S. Marines Mopping in Solomon Islands; May Widen Wedge

Washington, Aug. 19.—(AP)—A United States submarine has sunk a Japanese cruiser or destroyer in the western Aleutians, the Navy announced today, bringing to 23 the total of enemy ships announced as sunk or damaged in that area.

The Navy said that conditions made it impossible to determine an exact identification of the ship destroyed.

The sinking was announced in Navy department communique No. 108, which follows:

"North Pacific Area:
"I. A United States submarine has reported the sinking of a Japanese cruiser or destroyer in the western Aleutian area. Conditions made impossible an exact identification of the type of ship."

"2. This sinking has not been announced in any previous Navy department communique."

MARINES MOPPING UP

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Australia, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The final expulsion of Japan from the Solomon Islands apparently rested today on the completion of two tedious, difficult jobs—the mop-up ashore where the United States Marines have landed and the consolidation of naval mastery in that South Pacific zone.

This still was a triple-header operation of major magnitude, involving land, sea and air forces, but every indication in the absence of official fact and figure pointed to accumulating successes.

For one thing, the Japanese radio has begun changing its story on the battle and the only reference to it in the latest Tokyo broadcasts was a commentator's warning that the United States onslaught might lead to further attacks on Japanese-held territory "or even on Japan herself."

A report to Auckland from a New Zealand correspondent somewhere in the South Pacific said:

Convict Importer as Conspirator

New York, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Convicted of conspiring with the German high command to import illegally seized diamonds from Belgium and Holland, Werner von Clemm, German-born importer, faces a possible maximum penalty of two years in prison and a $10,000 fine. He is to be sentenced tomorrow.

A federal court jury last night also convicted the Pioneer Import Corporation of which von Clemm is president.

The government charged that the diamond broker—a naturalized American, former German army officer and prominent long island socialite who is a cousin of the wife of Nazi Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop—was to split the profit from the sale of diamonds with Nazi officials for use in furthering their propaganda in this country.

Indicted with von Clemm but fugitive from the court in Germany were the importer's twin brother, Carl, Ernest Cremer, manager of the German diamond control office, and Carlos Hoepfner, European vice president of the Pioneer firm.

U. S. treasury agents confiscated $400,000 worth of precious stones when the 44-year-old importer was arrested. It was brought out during the two-week trial.

Seven Men, Five Women Held Today in Death of Woman and Policeman

Cleveland, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Seven men and five women were held today for questioning in the beating to death of a 28-year-old woman which was disclosed by a gun battle that killed an Elyria policeman and Nathaniel Spuriel, Cleveland night club operator.

The 12 captives, including Spuriel's 20-year-old wife, were described by police as his associates in a career which included vice, drugs, thievery and finally homicide.

The three violent deaths last night climaxed a number of vice cases in which Spuriel, a Negro, was the convicted, key character in the debauchery of four white girls.

Dead, besides Spuriel, were Doris McConnell, 23 and white, recently arrested on a vice charge, and Patrolman Howard Taft of the Elyria police department.

Miss McConnell's nude body was found stuffed into the trunk compartment of Spuriel's luxurious coupe when Patrolman Taft and a partner investigated an Elyria traffic collision involving the coupe.

Coroner S. C. Ward said the woman had been "badly beaten" from eight to 20 hours earlier, perhaps with a whip.

Detective Sergeant Martin P. Cooney, chief of the homicide squad, said Spuriel and Miss McConnell had apparently quarreled in the rooms over Spuriel's Cleveland night club and later at a house operated by Spuriel. A suite in this house bore evidence of a violent quarrel.

Platform of State GOP Will Contain Below 2,000 Words

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 19.—(AP)—An abbreviated Republican state platform bearing the stamp of approval of Governor Green and Senator C. Wayland Brooks emerged today from a closed conference of GOP leaders at the executive mansion, but there was no official disclosure of its contents.

The document, described as containing less than 2,000 words and the briefest on record, was reviewed by the party high command last night in a seven-hour session which didn't break up until the early morning hours. The platform will be presented to the party state convention tomorrow for ratification.

Pending its preparation in final form by the pre-convention platform committee headed by State Senator Arnold P. Benson of Batavia, nothing was announced as to the decisions reached by the party leadership on the language of the planks on war and peace aims.

Advance indications were that the platform would call for full support of the war program of the national administration, maintenance of the two-party system, and post-war safeguards of the American form of government while avoiding any commitment on international relations after the war.

Those in Conference

Attending the Mansion conference besides Governor Green and Brooks were Werner Schroeder, Chicago, national committeeman; Lieut. Gov. Hugh W. Cross, Attorney General George F. Barrett, Auditor Arthur C. Lueder, Treasurer Warren Wright, Senator Earl B. Searcy, Springfield, and Rep. Hugh Green, Jacksonville, the latter two representing the pre-convention platform committee.

One unofficial report coming from the conference was that Dr. Martin Luten, Chicago, would be slated for University of Illinois trustee in place of Charles R. Pillsbury, Chicago, one of the three men recommended as nominees by the University Alumni Association's committee. Others recommended by the committee for nomination by the convention were Chester R. Davis of Wayne, an incumbent, and Frank McKelvey, Springfield banker and former president of the alumni association.

RAF Blasts at German Sub Base of Flensburg

London, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Flensburg, the Nazi submarine and shipbuilding center almost at the Danish border, was the chief target of RAF bombers last night, their second night in a row over northern Germany, the air ministry announced today.

A communique said four of the raiders were missing.

The weight of the attack was not disclosed immediately.

A few German bombers were over England during the night. The ministry of home security said bombs dropped in East Anglia caused some damage and slight casualties.

Committee Will Tackle Mine Manpower Problem

Washington, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Solid Fuels Coordinator Ickes named a committee to tackle the critical manpower problem facing the nation's coal mining industry.

The committee will confer with Chairman Paul V. McNutt, of the War Manpower Commission, and Major General Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, "in an effort to stop further loss of men from critical occupations in the coal mining industry to other industries and the armed forces."

Black-suited commandos of the four United Nations—Americans, Canadians, Britons and fighting Frenchmen—drove their tanks and guns into Nazi lines, blew up defenses and captured at least one beach-head by assault.

First units returning from the battle area—presumably a group which had smashed Nazi gun emplacements and then been re-embarcked after their mission was accomplished—arrived at a British base in gay spirits late today.

There was no indication that these units meant a general withdrawal; indeed, heavy fighting was reported still raging in the Dieppe region.

U. S. Army bombers and fighters joined in forming a protective "umbrella" over the land assault forces. Bitter German aerial opposition was reported.

Invasion Coast at Dieppe Is Scene of Hard Fight All Day

Allies Show No Signs of Letting Up in Smash on Nazi Defenses

BULLETIN
London, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Allied Commandos were believed still fighting around Dieppe, France, as night approached, and it was made known that the chief objectives of this great raid of the war had been achieved.

By ROGER D. GREENE, Associated Press War Editor

Landing with tanks and heavy weapons, American ranger troops, British commandos and allied forces smashed at the Nazi-occupied French "invasion" coast at Dieppe for more than eleven hours today while giant U. S. army flying fortresses pounded a German fighter plane base at nearby Abbeville.

The German news agency DNB asserted at 12:30 p. m. CWT, that the big-scale allied landing attempt had ended in a debacle and that since this afternoon there

Difficult

London, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The nature of the coast around Dieppe, at the western approaches to the Strait of Dover and less than 100 miles from Paris, is indicative of the difficult nature of the allied raid there today.

There are long stretches of open beach and ground before anyone coming from the sea can reach cover.

Continental sources—some neutral, some axis—have reported for some time past that the Dieppe area was heavily fortified, with many armoured and long-range coastal guns and much smaller artillery.

There, as elsewhere along the French coast, these sources have reported extensive German land mine fields and hidden forts in a strip 25 miles or more in width.

was "not a single armed British, American or Canadian left on the European continent."

There was no confirmation for the Nazi claim. British reports said the battle was continuing late in the afternoon.

Authoritative London quarters, however, had said earlier that the allied raiders would be withdrawn once they had achieved their objective of testing German anti-invasion defenses.

DNB asserted that more than 1,000 prisoners had been taken and that allied losses in men and material were "very high." This is a standard Nazi claim.

Invasion Idea Discounted

Heavy fighting raged in the Dieppe area late this afternoon amid indications that a major operation was unfolding—possibly even a second front, although British quarters discounted the idea of a full-scale invasion.

At 6:30 p. m. CWT, the Germans acknowledged that the allies were still under heavy Nazi counterattack. This was more than 11 hours after the attack began.

As the allies attacked hour after hour without sign of a let-up, the possibility—if not the probability—appeared that what began as the greatest commando raid of the war may have found a "soft spot" which might become a genuine invasion spearhead.

Black-suited commandos of the four United Nations—Americans, Canadians, Britons and fighting Frenchmen—drove their tanks and guns into Nazi lines, blew up defenses and captured at least one beach-head by assault.

Hundreds of Women To Get Employment at Ordnance Plant

Great Munitions Plant South of Dixon Nears Completion Today

Editor's Note: The following story concerning the Green River Ordnance plant, south of Dixon, has been passed by the Army's censor at the plant.

The extent and vigor of America's war effort may be well exemplified at the Green River Ordnance plant which is rapidly coming into full bloom and will soon be turning out high explosives packed in shells and destined finally for Hitler-Hirohito and companions.

What has been accomplished on this new government reservation is almost beyond belief. Last spring, just a few months ago, army engineers took over this large area of farm land and today it is studded with huge and extensive lines of buildings designed and equipped for shell loading. Just how many such "lines" or units have been erected is not made public nor will any announcement be made as to the total capacity of the area. And although presumably the entire area will be made use of, and each of the units must be placed at such safe distances from all others that an explosion in one would not create damage in any other, one can imagine that loaded shells of various sizes and types can be turned out at the Green River plant in quantities such as to give the enemy something to worry about.

And speaking of explosions, the builders are not expecting any, but they are foresighted enough to provide means to minimize the danger and also the minimize the damage should one occur. All of the buildings where the explosive material will be handled are covered with a type of manufactured siding that resembles a brittle sort of asbestos and in event of a blast it crumbles without flying in large pieces. Fire walls are built at frequent intervals. Men and women working in rooms where the explosives are handled will be required to wear shoes that have no nails in the soles or heels so there will be no sparks struck. Uniforms will be without pockets and the possession of a match on the job means trouble for the carrier and the immediate loss of his job.

Many Precautions

Rooms where the shells are loaded have inside walls that are polished smooth with abrasives so that no dust can find lodging. The interiors are painted a gleaming white. The many overhead lamps have patented double glass protection from any possible exposed spark. The men and women working on these jobs will be required to change clothing before and after each shift and the most careful supervision possible will be exercised over the employees and their working conditions to protect them from any accidents.

The construction and equipping of these long lines of buildings is only a part of the gigantic task that is being accomplished at the Green River plant in such record time. Hills have been leveled and fields smoothed out by fantastically big and marvelously efficient earth moving machines. Construction has been on a really large scale.

The administration building, which houses the army staff and government employees as well as the representatives of Simmons and other contractors who are in charge of the construction and the

The War Today!

(This column, conducted as a daily feature by Dewitt MacKenzie, Wide World war analyst, is written in MacKenzie's absence by Glenn Babb.)

By GLENN BABB
(Telegraph Special Service)

Commandos of the United Nations, Americans of the "Ranger Battalion" along with the British and Canadians, were giving Adolf Hitler this morning a foretaste of "the day of liberation."

Lord Louis Mountbatten's tough young men were reminding the Fuehrer that while leaders of the allies have been plotting the outlines of their grand strategy in the east, fixing the lines at which his surge toward Asia is to be held, the preparations for the eventual offensive in the west have gone forward with a grim, fierce determination that the Nazi defenders of the Dieppe beaches now know at first hand.

Today's obviously is the greatest of all the Commando raids, larger in scope and of longer duration than its four predecessors which have harried the invasion coast. The blackclad Britons, Americans and Canadians swarmed ashore with tanks and other fighting equipment heretofore unused in such operations. The Dieppe raid, therefore, takes on the aspect of a full dress rehearsal which may be followed soon by the real thing, the opening of the second front, using all the weapons that will be used on that day—the umbrella of air support overhead, the heavy fighting ships offshore laying down barrage, the special landing barges disgorging their steel-clad fighting machines on the beaches that once formed one of Europe's gayest playgrounds.

The German radio's description of the raid stresses its scope and boldness of conception. This may betray genuine alarm, may reflect the mounting anxiety with which the Germans doubtless watch their western barricades while trying desperately to finish the war in the east before the blow falls elsewhere. Or it may be merely a build up for a story of an alleged British failure to be broadcast after the Commandos have returned across the channel. It would be naive to assume that the enemy

Army Ordered to Take Possession of and Operate Big Boston Plant

Washington, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Robert P. Patterson, Acting Secretary of War, on orders from President Roosevelt, today directed Major Ralph F. Gow of the Boston Ordnance District to take possession of the plant of the S. A. Woods Machine Company in South Boston, Mass., and operate it for the war department.

In a statement explaining the action, Patterson said failure of the company's officials to obey a War Labor Board order in a dispute with the company's employees "has created a serious threat to the production of vital war material which it manufactures."

"No company and no labor organization can be permitted to defy the mandate of this impartial tribunal," Patterson asserted.

The chief executive signed an executive order at 9:40 a. m., Central War Time, directing the government seizure of the plant, after the War Labor Board laid the case before him yesterday for appropriate action.

The company management had

Big Food Shortage By End of '43 Seen by Farmer-Senator

Fulmer of So. Carolina Says Labor Shortage Will Be Cause

Washington, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The United States and the other United Nations are headed straight for an acute food shortage, Chairman Hampton Fulmer (D-SC) of the house agriculture committee said today, and nothing is being done about it.

It will come about the end of 1943, the outspoken Carolina farmer predicted in an interview, and "the officials and bureaucrats handling the program now won't do anything about it until it smacks them right in the face."

Fulmer said he based his belief on a growing shortage of farm labor and what he described as an increasing tendency to disregard the problems of the farmer.

Meanwhile, the War Production Board's food requirements committee headed by Secretary of

Dixon High School Ag Students Take Honors at Morrison

Share Well in Awards at Section Fair Held at Whiteside Co. Seat

Members of the Dixon high school agriculture department won many honors at the sectional vocational fair held in Morrison on Tuesday.

Bob Whiting, a sophomore student, won $25 in cash premiums as well as the grand championship on his yearling Shropshire ewe and the reserve grand championship on his aged ewe. In addition to sweepstakes honors, Bob won first on his ewe lamb, first on ram lamb, first yearling ewe, first aged ewe and first on his pen of three purebred lambs. Thus Bob made a clean sweep by winning first place in each of the five classes in which his sheep were entered.

Harry Harnes, exhibiting for the first time, showed his purebred Southdown sheep to high honors. Harry won grand champion ewe lamb (all breeds competing), grand champion ram lamb and grand champion pen of three lambs. In addition, he won first on his ewe lamb, second on his ram lamb, second aged ewe and first place pen of three lambs. Harry will be a sophomore in Dixon high this coming term.

Harold Butterbaugh, another beginning exhibitor also won reserve championship honors with his purebred Southdown ram lamb. His aged ewe stood fourth in her class while his ram lamb was first in his division.

Dixon boys won first place in eight of the nine classes in which they were entered. They also won four grand championships and three reserve championships. Whiting won $25.00 in cash; Harnes won $16 and Butterbaugh won $7. Harold had entries in only two divisions; while the other boys were entered in more classes because of the fact that they have larger flocks of sheep.

Louis Wohrley was the sole Dixon entry in purebred swine. His Chester Whites placed, fifth boar pig, fourth sow pig and fourth on litter winning a total of $8 in cash prizes.

Many of the Dixon students were unable to show their animals this year due to the fact that threshing is not completed in many parts of the community. Other boys are working out for farmers while a few are working at the defense plants. The urgency of their tasks prevented their leaving them to exhibit their projects this year.

Farm WAR NEWS

Lee County Farmers Urged to Build Soil Fertility

Farmers of Lee county who have not made plans to earn their soil building allowance are urged to do so by Dale D. Rosenkrans, county AAA chairman. Conservation practices by American farmers in the past few years have enabled them to immediately step-up production to meet the nation's war time needs. Although most farmers are keeping 20 per cent of their acreage in soil conserving crops the percentage of farms completely earning soil building allowances is far below requirements. Mr. Rosenkrans points out that these practices are vital to food and fiber production in the next few years and necessary if the United States is to serve as a larder of the United Nations for the duration of the war. Lee county farmers have enjoyed their share of the nation's increased production this year and should keep their soil in good productive condition for future needs. Reports from 500 out of the 2200 Lee county farms which are cooperating with the AAA war program indicate that one-third have already earned their soil building allowances. Sixty-five indicate that they do not intend to earn their maximum soil building allowance. To assist farmers who want to complete their soil building practices before Oct. 1, the date of the final production check-up AAA county committees have arranged with quarries for purchasing of limestone.

Farmers may make out an order in the county office on a basis whereby the county committee pays for the limestone at the quarry and takes the amount out of the soil building payment later. However, the farmer must pay for the hauling and spreading out of his own pocket. Price for limestone is $1.00 a ton loaded on truck at the quarry, which is ceiling price. Any truck can be hired to do the hauling. Mr. Rosenkrans adds that some alfalfa seed may be sown before Oct. 1 or phosphate may be spread on conserving crops, but 99 per cent of wheat is earned by Lee county farmers from now on will be done with limestone.

Feed Wheat Is Now Available—Feed wheat at a price of 83 cents per bushel will be available in Lee county as part of a national "feed wheat" program to make use of the nation's tremendous wheat reserve and maintain the high livestock production. In making this announcement the county AAA committee explain that the purpose of the "feed wheat" program is to protect corn supplies. Carryover is expected to be 150 million bushels smaller this year than the 646 million bushels carryover in 1941. Congressional action providing for the sale of 125 million bushels of government-owned wheat at prices not less than 85 per cent of the parity price for corn makes this sale of wheat possible. Orders from farmers who wish to purchase wheat for food purposes will be taken at the county AAA office. Lee county farmers may redeem 1941 hard wheat under loan at the feed wheat prices.

Notes from USDA Letter—New electric motors from now on will be released only for the most important war and civilian requirements and other applicants will have to adapt used motors before filling application to WPB for a motor. In order to have a complete file showing what motors are available in the country, the WPB has asked that owners of motors adapted for commercial purposes communicate with its conservation division, used equipment section, giving all relevant information.

Permits from the Interstate Commerce Commission are necessary before grain can be shipped by train for storage at terminal markets. This order is designed to provide priority in transportation and to prevent the tying up of freight cars at market. Movement of "cash grain" also will be by permit on the basis of "moving grain in the gravest danger of damage or loss" and thereafter on the basis of a "fair and equitable proportion of the facilities available at the market."

Cooperation Urged in Truck Stock Hauling

Urbana—Interviews with 88 truck operators delivering livestock to three local Illinois stockyards show materially different conditions than were found at central markets, reports R. C. Ashby, professor of livestock marketing at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Only 8 per cent of these trucks equalled or exceeded Office of Defense Transportation load requirements on both trips—compared with 50.9 per cent reported at Chicago and 23.7 per cent at National Stockyards, East St. Louis.

Of the 88 trucks, 40 were commercial and 48 were farmers' trucks. Where 67.5 per cent of the 40 commercial trucks hauled less than 100 per cent capacity load in both directions, 72.9 per cent of the farmers' trucks hauled less than 100 per cent capacity loads both ways.

From the standpoint of tire economy, probably the most striking feature is that, of the 88 trucks, 59 per cent carried less than 75 per cent of a capacity load to market. There is need for much more neighborhood and community cooperation in filling out loads to market, as well as in saving all possible truck trips, believes Ashby.

Of the 88 trucks, 39 loaded their livestock at home; 48 made one stop to load, and one truck made two stops. The average mileage driven by the 49 trucks in picking up their livestock was about two miles a load.

Of the 88 trucks, 71 per cent moved 25 miles or less to the stockyards and would appear to be exempt from general order No. 3 of the Office of Defense Transportation. On the other hand, ODT officials have said clearly that farm trucks must economize in the use of their trucks and tires—by compulsion, if they don't do it voluntarily.

Tires are still being issued, so many people assume they will continue to be available, but rationing isn't building more tires. Ashby said.

FRANK PRIEBE'S WEEKLY LETTER to POULTRY RAISERS

The other morning, when I phoned a produce house out in Nebraska, the manager said he and the office girl were running the plant. Over Sunday everyone else had left for the Army, the Navy, or defense plants.

I talked to a produce house down in Illinois and they told me it was impossible to get anyone to candle eggs. So they simply had to stop handling them.

Another produce man told me he would have to close his plant if they took any more of his men. Others, not so easily defeated, are hiring women to do a lot of jobs that the men used to do—even to grading poultry and driving trucks.

However, there is no doubt that a shortage of labor threatens to interfere with the marketing of poultry and eggs. There's a record crop. The big job now is to get this food to the people who need it.

Chickens and eggs are perishable food—and we mustn't forget it. It's a waste of labor—a waste which this country can't afford—to produce good food and then allow it to spoil.

I know it's hard to get help on the farm. I know in many cases the whole family is working in the field. I know produce plants are operating short-handed and much of the help they do have is inexperienced.

Take Care of the Eggs
Yet somehow I can't feel there is any excuse for an incident I heard about this week. A storekeeper, who had bought and sold what he believed were good eggs, came to work one morning to find the front of his store plastered with rotten eggs—and a note from an angry customer.

Some producer who was "too busy" had let good eggs spoil. And some careless candler had let them slip by.

There are enough honest, un-avoidable errors these days without mistakes caused by carelessness and indifference.

Eggs are perishable. Care is the only thing that will keep them fresh from the time they are laid until the time they reach the consumer—whether the consumer is a housewife whose wartime job is to keep her family well fed, or a working man who must keep on the job in a plant factory, or a soldier who needs fighting food.

Give Them Good Food
I think there is a tendency on the part of producers to feel that, as long as they're getting a good price for anything in an egg shell, it's not worth while to "bother" taking care of the eggs, even if they can get more for really fine, fresh ones.

Maybe—if you want to put it on a dollar and cents basis. But I think we've passed the point where the only reason for taking care of eggs is the fact that good eggs are worth more money.

It seems to me we have an obligation not only to produce food for our working and fighting men and our allies, but to see that it's still good when they get it. That means we must take care of the eggs—on the farm, in the produce house, and all the way down the line; take care of them not just because good eggs bring a better price, but because we can't afford "duds" in a case of eggs any more than we can in a load of bombs.

The care must begin on the farm—as soon as possible after the eggs are laid. And surely there must be someone on every farm who can make it one of his or her wartime jobs to see that the eggs are gathered twice a day and cooled quickly so people will have good food.

"FORGOTTEN" MAN
Although Whistler's mother is known the world over because of his painting by that name, his father is a forgotten man, yet George Washington Whistler, Whistler's father, won fame by building the first railroad from Moscow to St. Petersburg (now Leningrad).

Records May Save Headaches During Income Tax Time

Urbana—One way to avoid a headache at income tax reporting time is to keep a complete and accurate record of the farm business in the new Illinois farm account book. Thousands of Illinois farmers who are keeping the records can testify to this, according to farm management specialists of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

When requirements for filing returns dropped from $5,000 gross income to $2,000 in 1940, to $1,500 in 1941 and to a possibility of $1,800 in 1942, and with prices and incomes rising for the same years, the filing of income tax returns became an annual affair for most farmers, except those on a self-sufficing basis.

In addition to 4,000 farmers who are enrolled in organized accounting projects, 16,000 other farmers acquired 1942 Illinois farm account books from farm advisers and other sources, according to J. B. Cunningham, extension farm management specialist of the U. of I. College of Agriculture.

When the 4,000 farmers enrolled in projects were recently visited by farm advisers and extension specialists of the college, most of them had their books up-to-date, including depreciation tables for machinery and buildings. Some books, however, were not in good enough condition to allow farmers to take all the deductions they otherwise might. The depreciation tables are a special feature in the 1942 book and are included for income tax purposes. They are needed regardless of whether the cash or the accrual method of reporting is used.

The tables provide special forms for recording the year the item was acquired, cost, estimated life, depreciation this year and inventories for beginning and end of year. When properly filled out, they may be used as a basis for reporting for many years.

In addition they are useful in arriving at inventory values at the end of the year, Cunningham said.

Streamline Soil Conservation to the War Program

Soil conservation, although important in wartime, may need to be sacrificed to immediate production of food for freedom.

This fact is guiding agricultural engineers of the University of Illinois in their erosion control and conservation programs, which have been conducted in cooperation with Illinois farmers for more than half a century.

However, certain practices, such as terracing and contour farming, grass waterways and gully-control dams, which have immediate effects on production, are being continually emphasized, according to R. C. Hay, extension agricultural engineer.

"The success of terracing depends on contour farming accompanying it," Hay said. "To supplement terracing with contour farming and at the same time prepare for future terrace outlets, or grass waterways, it's also being recommended. Contour farming and grass waterways readily lead to terracing or strip cropping when the need for more complete control is evident and farmers are ready to take the next step."

Studies by the university and U. S. Department of Agriculture over a three-year period on 246 farms in four Illinois counties show that for maximum production, as well as for soil conservation and increased income, sloping cropland should be farmed on the contour. Average corn yields were 70 bushels on contoured fields and 62 on non-contoured fields on the same farms in 1941. Power and labor costs for each crop acre, as well as total farm operating expenses, were practically the same on two groups of 35 farms each on which most of the farming operations were either on the contour or up-and-down-the-hill. Furthermore, farmers using contour practices generally grew more livestock and seed crops and produced more milk, meat and wool.

Another erosion control device which is coming into its own as a wartime adjustment is the formless concrete "flume" which requires no complicated forms and no reinforcing. Studies show that these structures cost about one-fourth as much as reinforced concrete.

Chubby Churchill

Teresa Turner, Hyattsville, Md., is a determined though tiny version of Winston Churchill in her baby parade.

crete notch spillway dams formerly made by many farmers. Labor requirements are in about the same proportion, Hay said.

Further information about these practices may be obtained free from county farm advisers or the university.

Deficient Soil Shows Most Colapsis Damage

It's where soil fertility requirements have been neglected that the grape colapsis is causing the most damage in corn and beans and other legumes.

This is the belief of A. L. Lang, soil fertility specialist of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, on the basis of tests being conducted.

Other experiments, conducted the past two years by entomologists of the Illinois State Natural History Survey and the University of Illinois, show that a high phosphorus-potassium fertilizer applied hill-drop at planting time will prevent most of the trouble from the pest.

Lang recommends the four following steps to build up soil fertility so the crops will be more resistant to the insect:

1. Test soils for acidity and apply limestone where needed.
2. Supply adequate amounts of organic matter and nitrogen through the judicious use of legumes, crop residues and animal manures.
3. Test soils for phosphorus and apply 1,000 to 1,500 pounds of rock phosphate to the acre when needed. Superphosphates containing phosphorus in a more available form may be used in smaller amounts and applied more frequently.
4. Determine potassium deficiencies by soil tests and plant-symptom diagnosis. Correct deficiencies by conservation of crop residues and applications of muriate of potash.

Ceiling Prices Help Delay Hog Marketing

Ceiling prices have given hog raisers a feeling of security that encourages feeding to heavier weights than usual.

Because hog prices have been stabilized, it is suggested by E. T. Robbins, livestock extension specialist of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, that conditions now justify feeding spring pigs to weights of around 250 pounds, instead of selling them at 200 pounds or lighter as many farmers have done in the past.

Healthy pigs born before May can be finished at 250 pounds before December 1. That would get them out of the way before the usual heaviest market movement of the year, which usually occurs in December and January. Late spring and summer pigs can be given plenty of time to reach heavy weights and be marketed after January and still come in ahead of the usual movement of fall pigs to market.

With price fluctuations reduced, it is profitable as well as patriotic to keep young hogs until they have reached desirable weight and finish, according to Robbins. This will also help to spread out hog marketings to avoid congested winter movements.

William Vaughn Weds in Church at Kansas City

White gladioli and chrysanthemums, against a background of ferns and lighted tapers, decorated the altar of St. Peter's Catholic church in Kansas City on Saturday morning for a 9 o'clock wedding ceremony, in which Miss Marjorie Cordes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cordes of Kansas City, became the bride of William B. Vaughn, son of Mrs. Mary Vaughn of this city. The Very Rev. Msgr. James N. V. McKay heard the vows.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white brocaded satin, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice, long, fitted sleeves, and a full bouffant skirt that extended into a train. Her fingertip veil of tulle and Mechlin lace fell from a tiara of seed pearls, and she carried a prayer book, topped with a cluster of white orchids.

Miss Mary McMahon, the maid of honor, and Miss Betty Baldwin, bridesmaid, wore gowns of brocaded satin in shades of yellow and blue. Their shower bouquets contained Token roses, Souvenir roses, and Stephanotis.

Robert McMann of Omaha was best man for Mr. Vaughn, and Carl J. Cordes, Jr., brother of the bride, was groomsman. Ushers were Bernard Elenucanne, Robert McMahon, and John Blanchan of Kansas City.

A breakfast for members of the immediate families and the bridal party was served at the Plaza hotel, following the ceremony. At 3 o'clock, Mr. Vaughn and his bride were receiving the well wishes of friends at a reception at the home of the bride's parents.

Afterward, the couple left on a brief honeymoon trip to Sulphur Springs, Mo. For traveling, the bride wore a blue velvet suit with a hat to match, and at her shoulder was a spray of orchids. The couple will be at home in Kansas City, upon their return.

Mr. Vaughn was graduated from Rochelle high school in 1940, and both he and his bride formerly attended Creighton university.

Out of town guests attending the wedding included Mrs. Mary Vaughn of Dixon and Mrs. William Vaughn, Sr., and Mrs. Ernest Herman of Rochelle.

MOTHER: Now, Bob, blow out the candles, dear . . . sixteen of them this year!
BOB: Gee, Mom, that's a swell cake! See, I blew them all out. Can I wish now?
SISTER: Here it comes! . . . He wants to drive the car!
FATHER: Well, he's the age for a junior license. Bob, if you'll take some responsibility for the car—in stretching out its life—I'll say "Yes."
BOB: Fine, Dad . . . I've already started. I stopped at that Conoco Mileage Mer-

FATHER: Let's see. M-m-m . . . "INTO THE VALLEY OF DEATH." Interesting. In a certified test of six cars run to destruction, Conoco Nth oil lasted over 13,000 miles—more than twice the mileage averaged by five other big-name oils.

BOB: And look, Dad, about this OIL-PLATING. Gee!—lubricant really sort of bonded to inner engine parts!

FATHER: You win, Bob. Conoco Nth can make the car give us the years of service we've got to have now.

You'll win if you get in touch with Your Conoco Mileage Merchant. Today, get Conoco Nth motor oil. Continental Oil Co.

A Thought for Today

Be not deceived; evil communications corrupt good manners.—I Corinthians 15:33.

It must be that evil communications corrupt good dispositions.—Menander.

The Causes of Inflation

In a finely-reasoned editorial the New York Times recently defined the causes of inflation—and pointed to the inevitable disaster that will occur if inflation is not prevented. Here, in part, is what it said: "We have yet to see any one demonstrate how it is possible to increase wages in the face of a growing scarcity of goods without bringing on inflation. . . . Nor have we heard any one contend that inflation is from labor's standpoint a satisfactory means of achieving 'equality of sacrifice.' Yet it is constantly being argued that to restrain wage increases would violate the principle of equality of sacrifice. . . .

"The big executive who seeks to enrich himself out of the war is both foolish and unpatriotic. But his chances of getting away with it are practically nil. The Treasury has announced a policy of disallowing unusual and excessive salaries and bonuses. The new tax bill is calculated to catch the major part of what the Treasury lets by. . . . Under these conditions it is completely misleading to refer to salaries of the magnitude of $275,000 and $357,000 as though those amounts were actually at the disposal of the recipients. In the case of the latter sum, the government will get at least 80 per cent.

"How inflationary are such salaries? The relatively small number and amount involved was strikingly shown by the Treasury's figures with respect to the President's proposal for a ceiling of $25,000 on individual incomes. These showed that only 11,000 individuals and married couples and only $184,000,000 of income would be involved. Contrast this with the inflationary gap of $30,000,000,000 which Secretary Jones says will exist next year between consumer incomes and supply of goods available. It is absurd to suppose that our inflationary problem could be solved by taking away every cent of the income of the highest-paid executives. . . .

"As for the question of corporation profits, it is true that in some cases they have increased—before taxes. But again it is misleading to forget the great change being wrought by the tax collector. In the first quarter of this year a representative group of corporations tabulated by the National City Bank showed that in spite of a large gain in gross, net income after taxes was down an average of 25 per cent. . . .

"If inflation comes. . . it will come because the purchasing power of the whole country, flowing out chiefly in the form of higher wages, has increased out of all proportion to the volume of goods and services available. And if inflation comes it will not be the corporations that will be reduced to misery and privation. It will be the workers whose

LUCKY PENNY

BY GLORIA KAYE

COMMUNITY SING

CHAPTER XI

BACK in the office of the Courier next day, Penny checked hurriedly on proofs of the literature she had prepared for her Friday night meeting. Circulars, posters for store windows, the newspaper ad—all were in readiness.

No one would suspect, from the innocent wording, the real intent of the mass meeting. "Community Sing" and "Concert" were the big headlines. The men in the mill had been given double notice by Penny's friends there.

The weatherman proved cooperative when Friday evening arrived. The auditorium was filled. The Kirktown Glee Club took its place on the stage. Banners echoed to the lusty lilt of their voices. Men predominated in the audience, and their voices lifted in song as the concert proceeded.

Quietly, before the last refrain died down, Lou MacDonald, Jim Vickers, and Penny seated themselves in their appointed positions on the stage. With cheers for the glee club still ringing, MacDonald stepped forward.

"Friends," MacDonald started, "my story is not pleasant, but it must be told. It affects every one of you." He told the audience, simply and truthfully, of the tragic cases that came regularly to the attention of the Humane Society.

He laid the blame squarely on C. R.'s machinations. There was no mirth in the sober faces up-lifted to him.

When Jim stepped to the speakers' platform, a spontaneous cheer attested to his popularity. The men admired his courage and respected his judgment.

"Fellows," Jim said simply, "Not long ago there was a tragic bridge accident here. You or some member of your family was saved from death only by the will of Providence. A crooked city administration was responsible for the death of two of our best friends. I call it plain, cold-blooded murder." Eloquently Jim recited the many factual instances of graft and favoritism and crookedness.

high wages will buy less and less the higher and higher they go."

Inflation would destroy the economy of this country—and inflation could lose the war for us. Price control will be doomed to failure unless definite and aggressive action is taken to limit and absorb the excess purchasing power created by war. We are doing that in the case of executive salaries and industrial income. We are not doing it with wages—and abnormally high wages constitute the strongest inflationary influence of all.

Planned Socialization Admitted

The drive to socialize the electric power resources of this nation does not consist of isolated and unrelated incidents. It is, instead, a national campaign—carefully planned and integrated. Every local campaign is part of the whole, as devastating as any foreign aggression plot to destroy democracies.

Any one can see that simply by looking at a map. In the Southeast, the TVA has an almost 100 per cent electric monopoly in whole states—and it is constantly enlarging its power-producing and distributing facilities. In the Midwest, such experiments as the Loup River project in Nebraska are doing their part to ruthlessly and needlessly destroy private ownership in one of the most essential and progressive industries in that state. In California, Boulder Dam, Shasta Dam and other ventures are advancing the alien cause of socialism. Similar projects are doing the same in Oklahoma, Texas and other states. And in the Pacific Northwest, the drive toward total socialization of the electric power industry reaches its climax. Now pending in Congress is a Columbia River Power Authority bill which, if passed, would make all that area's power resources, privately-owned and municipally-owned alike, subject to czar-like control of a group of Washington politicians.

The public-power zealots used to say that such projects as the TVA and the rest were primarily for navigation, flood control and irrigation, and that power was only a by-product. Now that dishonest camouflage has been abandoned. Recently, a Federal power authority in South Carolina said, in a brief presented to the courts, that "the object of the named projects (Bonneville, TVA and Boulder), and of scores of others that have since been undertaken, was to socialize. . . the business of producing and distributing electric energy." There, in a sentence, is the truth at last.

Socialized electricity would mean that a Washington clique of politicians would have the power of life and death over the industries and communities of every state. It would mean that state and local rights would be destroyed.

Harsh Discipline

Edgar Book, 63, who on principle never in his life had bought anything on installments, was ordered off his job by a Detroit C. I. O. shop steward for refusing to buy war bonds on a salary deduction plan. Already he had bought, for cash, $1,050 of American and Canadian war bonds.

Union officials said that apparently there was a misunderstanding. Perhaps it started when a private organization was given the power to say whether a loyal American can or can not work for a living.

Handwriting is a key to character—especially on those little pieces of paper marked "insufficient funds."

A hat in the ring sometimes results from a ring in the hat.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Aug. 18.—The Russian situation does not look too bad. It is dangerous, discouraging, yet far from disastrous, so far.

Events are shaping up toward a winter battle line in the south, running roughly along the top of the Caucasus mountains, across the vital oil regions. This would mean that the Reds may keep the richest and best of the oil producing area, south of those mountains, out of nazi hands for another winter.

If they can hold the Baku area, where more than 50 per cent of all Russian oil has been produced, they will not consider this a very unsuccessful campaign, when measured against their advance hopes.

Hitler has seized the Maikop fields, and no doubt soon will get Grozny, on the northern side of the mountain range. The Reds have announced that the Maikop wells have been "destroyed," which only means that it will probably take Hitler six months to restore the production system and get oil from them.

No doubt the Reds will similarly "destroy" the Grozny producing area now at Hitler's reaching fingertips.

If they can hold the excellent natural barrier of the protecting Bakou mountains, it may not do them much good, as far as supplying their own oil needs, but they will at least keep this vital prize from the nazis. Their home supply has been estimated sufficient to carry them through the winter.

The Black sea will be lost to them but they have some shipping in the Caspian, which will enable them to communicate with the main front. It would be too dangerous a route, and cannot be freely used, but we can get some supplies and planes in to them through Iran.

The most decisive action on this front therefore is yet to be determined, and the Russian cause is not without hope. The army of the southern commander Timoshenko, is still intact, has merely been retreating, and not attempting to make a major stand north of the mountains, and therefore should be able to do this job which is cut out for it.

Winter should start closing down on the northern front, above the parallel of Moscow, within ten days. Snow there generally starts around Labor Day.

A heavy rainy season, which will impede mechanical activities generally, sets in south of Moscow about the latter part of September and October, and continues in varying degrees until winter haws sets in.

On this central front, the Russians are assuming a defensive position, which they hope to maintain through the winter, along the excellent natural line of the Volga and the Don.

Hitler has just now started some unexpected offensive thrusts around Voronezh to break this Don line in the center. He may soon go had after Leningrad and Moscow again, but so far, north of Voronezh neither side had enough strength to make any appreciable dent in the other.

The layout of the whole front now has the Reds in a position to lose both Leningrad and Moscow and not have to give in if they can hold the Caucasus mountains and the Volga-Don line in the center. If Hitler fails to get Stalingrad, he will have to cut in southeastward, along the east bank of the Volga to Astrakhan, but no one expects him to go across the deep, safe line of that mighty river before snow flies there, also.

Food may become Stalin's worst enemy this winter. Unprecedented bumper crops have been raised this summer in all unoccupied areas of Russia, but the total volume of the production naturally falls far short of making up the loss of the rich Ukraine fields to the Germans. True also, we cannot hope to get much in the way of Murransk off the Arctic ocean is an ice-free port throughout the winter, but German bombings, and the traffic jams on the single railroad southbound to Moscow, have made it an inadequate base. No others are usable to any great extent.

Nothing has been reported concerning Japanese intentions in Siberia, since they concentrated heavy forces on the Manchukuo border a month ago. They may strike at any minute, and close that Pacific port, which has not been of great use anyway, in view of the long railroad haul from there to the European battlefront.

If coming events of the battle during the next few weeks will only bear out these modest hopes, you will find the summer campaign has not really developed much beyond what was expected and prophesied last spring in this spot, namely, that the nazis would get a lot more territory but would not get the Russian armies.

Phils Revolt By Tagging Brooks, 3-1

Red Sox Run Winning Streak to 5 Games; Drop Yanks, 8-7

By The Associated Press
After nearly everybody except their relatives had given them up for lost, the St. Louis Cardinals are threatening at last to make a race out of the National league pennant drive.

They still trail the front-running Brooklyn Dodgers by six and a half lengths, but they have knocked three full games off the Dodger lead in the last three days and apparently have gathered enough steam to make things hot the rest of the way down the stretch.

With southpaw Max Lanier hurling seven-hit shutout ball, the Cards ran their latest winning streak to five in a row last night by beating the Chicago Cubs and Claude Passeau, 5-0.

The Dodgers dropped into Philadelphia for a one-night stand and were joined, 4-1, by the Phils, whom they had expected to roll over and play dead.

That defeat was the second straight for the Brooks, who have lost five of their last ten games. The Cardinals have won ten of their last 12.

Hubbell Wins 8th Straight
Carl Hubbell pitched the New York Giants to a 10-2 triumph over the Boston Braves yesterday, scattering six hits as his boss, Mel Ott, chipped in with his 21st home run and took over the leadership of the league.

It was the sixth straight in the longest Giant winning streak of the year and the eighth in a row for Hubbell, whose victory string is the longest unbroken one among National league pitchers.

The Pittsburgh Pirates dropped Cincinnati five games behind the Giants by whitewashing the Reds, 3-0, on the six-hit hurling of Johnny Lanning in another night contest.

In the American league, the Boston Red Sox ran their winning streak to five games by edging out the New York Yankees, 8-7 in ten innings.

Denny Galehouse turned in a seven-hit shutout in a night contest as the St. Louis Browns whipped the Chicago White Sox, 7-0, and climbed to within a single game of the third place Cleveland Indians, who were idle. The Washington Senators came from behind to trip the Philadelphia Athletics, 2-1, in another light tilt, with Alex Carrasquel shading Phil Marchand in a mound duel.

STRANAHAN PLAYS ART DOERING IN 3rd ROUND MATCH

Road to Chicago National Amateur Crown is Rocky One

Chicago, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Changing the name of a golf tournament doesn't make the road to a championship any easier so far as Frank Stranahan is concerned. Today's pairings in the Chicago National Amateur (known last year as the Great Lakes Amateur) showed the Toledo golfer had a full day's chore ahead if he expected to reach the semi-finals again and have another crack at the title Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., beat him out of last year.

Stranahan's third round foe at the Knollwood club was Chicago's Art Doering, former Trans-Mississippi winner and a semi-finalist in the United States Golf Association's 1939 National Amateur. Stranahan will probably bump into Steve Kovach, 1942 National Amateur semi-finalist from Pittsburgh, in his afternoon fourth round match.

Billows Faces Tough Job
Champion Billows may find the day equally troublesome. If he disposes of Chicago's Johnny Wagner, a tough match play customer, he will be opposed by either Mike Stolarik of Great Lakes or Mike Benciscutto of Racine, Wis., two of the midwest's most promising youngsters.

Both Billows and Stranahan breezed through their opening matches yesterday. Stranahan is six under par for the 48 holes he has played since the tournament began. Billows is three under for 47 holes.

Another youngster, Manuel de la Torre, National Intercollegiate runner up from Northwestern University, gets a chance against the veteran Johnny Lehman of Chicago today following his one up victory yesterday over Don Armstrong, co-medalist from Aurora, Ill. Manuel tied the match on the 15th and went ahead on the 16th.

Ludolph Eliminates Holmstrom
A second surprise was victory of Bill Ludolph, fellow townsman of Armstrong and a junior at the University of Michigan, who defeated Johnny Holmstrom, University of Illinois golf captain from Rockford, Ill., two up. Rockford however, retained a threat in young Bob Rosecrance, Stanford University student and three time winner of the Chicago Junior Open.

Wilford Wehrle of Racine, Wis., the tournament's other co-medalist, had little trouble advancing. He left the course immediately after his last match and did not participate in the one-hole playoff for the qualifying medal, which Armstrong won from Stranahan by getting a par four on the play-off hole.

Other third round matches today sent Wehrle against Ray Bowen, Chicago; Ludolph against Lou Eposito, Chicago; Steve Kovach against Jack Duers, Chicago, and Rosecrance against Frank Kovach, Chicago.

EVANSVILLE WINS 2 AT SPRINGFIELD

(By The Associated Press)
The third place Evansville Bees dealt Springfield the pennant aspirations a heavy blow last night by taking a double header from the Browns.

Springfield now trails first place Cedar Rapids by a full two games. The leaders stepped out of the Three-Eye league last night to play the Camp Grant soldiers and won a 2 to 1 decision.

Evansville grabbed the opener against Springfield with a five run first inning, winding up with an 11-4 margin. In the second game the Bees waited until the eighth for their big inning, then got four runs and finally won out, 6 to 1.

In the other game last place Decatur collected only six hits, but combined them with four errors to defeat Waterloo, 4 to 3.

Tonight's schedule: Cedar Rapids at Waterloo; Decatur at Springfield; Evansville at Madison.

TAM O'SHANTER GIVES $14,197.47 TO ARMY RELIEF

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 19.—A check for $14,197.47 was mailed yesterday to the Sixth Corps Area office of Army Emergency Relief to cover the Army's share of profits from the $15,000 Tam O'Shanter National Open and All-American Amateur golf tournaments which were staged here at Tam O'Shanter Country club from July 20 to 26.

Army Emergency Relief received eighty-five per cent of the net proceeds, according to George S. May, president of Tam O'Shanter, who stated that the other fifteen per cent, or $2,505.43, will go to the national benevolent fund of the Professional Golfers' Association of America. Total net profits, Mr. May said, were $16,702.90 or 19.7 per cent of income from all sources including ticket sales, entry fees, program advertising, parking and food concessions. Total income was $84,951.65 and expenses totaled $68,248.75.

An American record for attendance at golf events was established when 62,266 people attended the 1942 tournaments during the eight days from Monday, July 20, to Monday, July 27. More than half of these attended the finals on Sunday when a total of 32,159 people went through the gates at Tam O'Shanter to see Byron Nelson and Clayton Heafner finish with 280 apiece for a first place tie in the Open event. It is believed that this figure set not only an American record but a world record for attendance at a golf tournament on a single day.

4 Negroes Have Held Welter Title

Ray Robinson, If He Can Defeat Red Cochrane, Will Be Fifth

If and when Ray (Sugar) Robinson, sensational young New York Negro welterweight becomes the kingpin of the 147-pound class, he will be the fifth boxer of his race to become titleholder of the welterweight diadem.

Robinson who battles Tony Motisi, the Chicago lad in a 10 rounder at Comiskey Park on Wednesday night, August 26, is looked upon as the most logical contender for the crown now worn by Freddie (Red) Cochrane and it is almost a certainty that he'll be the first to get a crack at Cochrane when the current champion is ready to defend his title.

The first Negro to win the 147 pound championship was Joe Walcott, the Barbadoes Kid, who knocked out Rube Ferns in five rounds, at Fort Erie, Canada, on December 18, 1901.

The Dixie Kid was the next Negro to win the crown taking it from Walcott on a foul in 20 rounds at San Francisco, Calif., April 30, 1904. The decision was disputed and the Dixie Kid went abroad, outgrew the welterweight division and Walcott again claimed the title, which was recognized by the fistie world. Two years later Walcott lost the crown to Honey Melody.

Armstrong Was Last
Not until April 14, 1931 did another Negro win the welterweight title. On this date Young Jack Thompson, of San Francisco won the crown from Tommy Freeman whom he kayced in 12 rounds at Cleveland, Ohio.

The last Negro to win the 147 pound championship was Henry Armstrong who defeated Barney Ross for the prize in 15 rounds in the Garden Bowl in New York on May 31, 1938.

So Robinson who is about the greatest of all Negro battlers in the past 30 years appears to be on the right track to the championship and the only way the experts believe he'll miss becoming boss of the 147 pounds in for Champion Cochrane to side-track him.

The Motisi battle is Sugar's first in Chicago and mid-western fans have been clamoring for the opportunity to see this dynamite-fisted youngster in action.

Motisi is about the best of the welterweight crop in these parts to face the elongated Negro youngster who towers 5 feet 11 inches, unusual height for a welterweight.

The match has caught on and Promoter Bill Rand has made preparations to handle a huge crowd. The promoter expects upwards of 25,000 fans to be on hand when the boys square off.

FOXX MOST VERSATILE IN BASEBALL HISTORY--MACK

By JERRY BRONDFIELD
Wide World Sports Writer

There's no hesitation on Connie Mack's part when you ask him: "Who do you regard as the greatest all-around baseball player the game has known?"

And baseball's patriarch, the man who has seen 'em come and go since baseball's mesozoic age, tells you, promptly: "Jimmy Foxx, without a doubt."

"I know," continued the venerable Philadelphia A's manager, "that many of the old-timers will tell you Honus Wagner was a whiz at any position in the infield, exclusive of first base, but Jimmy's versatility was amazing."

"As a first baseman he was better than fair. As a third baseman he was very good. As a catcher he would have been one of the greatest if he had stuck to the position. But Jimmy didn't like catching, much."

"It's a funny thing," Connie mused. "Foxx made his biggest reputation at first base, the position he played poorest of the three." Mack uses the word "poorest" only as a comparison.

Foxx, now performing as a Cub, actually reported to Mack when he was only 15, Connie recalls. "He came to me as a third baseman, recommended by Frank Baker. But I was needing catchers back in 1925, and after hearing he'd played there some I put him behind the bat."

Foxx caught up to and including part of the 1928 season for the A's, then started alternating between first and third until 1935.

Dykes Runnerup
When he went to the Red Sox in 1936 he played first, but also saw some service in the outfield. Last year he played first, the outfield, and caught, too.

"And as I recall, Jimmy used to do some pitching quite a few years back," Connie said.

"Jimmy had what it takes to be a great all-around player. He had natural athletic coordination, great speed, and great hands. Really, great all-around players are rare. It simply requires too much."

And who would he pick as Foxx's runnerup?
"I believe I'd take Jimmy Dykes," Mack said. "At various times I had Dykes playing first, second and third and he handled Each position beautifully. I remember one year I had Dykes on first and Foxx on third, just opposite to where people were accustomed to seeing them. And Dykes could have been a great outfielder, because he was such a fine judge of flyballs."

Babe Ruth? "Yes, a top-flight pitcher and outfielder, but those two positions are too limited unto themselves to show all-around versatility," was Mack's estimate.

Larry Lajoie, old-time Cleveland second baseman, also was a slick hand anywhere in the infield. Mack recalls, and going 'way back, Connie came up with Charley Ferguson, who in the 1880s did a lot of high-class pitching and second basing for the Phils.

"But I've just got to list Jimmy Foxx number one in my book," Mack insists, "because he not only fielded his positions so well—and so many of them—but as you know, Jimmy was something of a hitter."

Such gorgeous understatement. Mister Mack.

PARDONABLE ERROR

By NEA Service
New York—Mel Ott's successful squeeze play against the Phils, the first in his major league career, was accidental. The bases were loaded. There was one out. Coach Adolf Lugo ran in, asked if it wasn't a good time to work the squeeze. Ott said no. He was going to hit. He tapped his bat on the plate. He's done that before hitting ever since he joined the Giants. But just as Johnny Podgajny pitched, the New York manager saw Bill Lohrmann, who had been on third, almost on top of the plate. He made a last-second stab and laid down a perfect bunt. He'd forgotten that by tapping the plate, he'd given the squeeze sign.

COLLEGES MOVING FOOTBALL GAMES TO LARGE CITIES

Athletic Departments Hope This Will Solve Travel Problem

New York, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Moving the football games to the spectators instead of having the spectators move to the football games is the answer of the college athletic departments to the war-inspired travel restrictions.

Although virtually every coach and athletic director polled by The Associated Press expressed optimism regarding attendance and gate receipts for the coming season, many of them either had moved a contest to a large city or was contemplating such a switch.

Even the staid Big Ten approved the transfer of the Ohio State-Illinois fracas from small Champaign, Ill., to much bigger Cleveland.

It was the coaches of colleges in the smaller towns who were pessimistic.

Bernie Moore of Louisiana State, figured that gate receipts for the Tigers' home games would be off from 24 to 40 per cent because of Baton Rouge's small size, plus the tire and gas situation. Mike Ahearn, veteran Kansas State director, estimated his club's home receipts at Manhattan, Kas., "might be cut in half." Army guessed the crowds at its three West Point battles would be off 30 per cent.

Their sentiments contrasted sharply with the majority, especially with the ones expressed by officials at schools in Boston, New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Dallas, Minneapolis, Washington, Baltimore, Atlanta and New Orleans.

Schedule Shifts Made
But just in case their optimism might be of the morning glory variety many of the directors made schedule shifts in hopes of insuring profitable games.

West Virginia, unable to get an attractive "breather" for its home field on Oct. 3, agreed to play in Boston College's stadium; Maryland moved the Rutgers game to Baltimore and the Florida contest to Washington; Pennsylvania and Army will play in Philadelphia instead of at West Point.

Georgetown and George Washington, both competing for the patronage in an expanded Washington, D. C., will try Saturday night frays while Michigan State and Pittsburgh hope to lure the day-shift war workers with a 4 p. m. kickoff.

Syracuse, located in a medium sized city, is starting a drive to keep "the home owners at home" while "Share the Car" clubs are being organized at Detroit to help transport the University of Michigan followers to Ann Arbor, 40 miles away.

Gordon Finkle, South Chicago, ex-convict who is wanted in various cities on charges of violation of parole, automobile theft and forgery, was captured at 9:00 o'clock Tuesday night by Sgt. George Ives and Officers George Kiver and John Woods of the Illinois state police in a weed patch in Rock Falls, where he had been hiding after abandoning an automobile he is alleged to have stolen in Moline earlier in the day. Before going into the weeds Finkle is said to have threatened to shoot Harry Lotta of Rock Falls if the latter revealed his hiding place.

United States Needs 10,000 School Teachers

Calgary, Aug. 19—(AP)—Miss I. E. Schatzmann of the University of Illinois said in an address here last night that the United States now needed 10,000 school teachers and that by the time winter comes the shortage might reach 45,000.

Speaking at the Canadian National Federation of Home and School convention, Miss Schatzmann said she believed that some 1,000 United States schools would not open next fall. A recent survey, she said, showed that from 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 young people will be needed for defense and industry in the United States shortly.

Invasion Coast at

shuttled across to attack the enemy or reload, indicating that perhaps 1,000 or more allied aircraft were in action.
As the battle developed, with the Germans conceding that allied forces were attacking on both sides of Dieppe, there was still no official indication whether it was an attempt to open a second front. The BBC had told the French people many hours earlier that it was not an invasion, presumably to forestall a popular revolt.

However, military strategy would dictate that the British have strong reserves massed in southern England ready to take advantage of any "soft spot" the Commandos might find in Nazi coastal defenses.

The first word that reinforcements were being sent would indicate strongly that a full-fledged invasion attempt was under way.
Dispatches from London said fighting in the Dieppe region was still going strong at 3:30 p. m. (9:30 a. m. Central War Time), more than nine hours after the assault began.

Waves of allied planes continued to roar across the channel.

BBC Warns French

The BBC warned the French not to rise in support of the allies until they were given the word, in order to prevent a repetition of the tragic St. Nazaire battle in which French patriots fought the Nazis for days after British Commando raiders had withdrawn. Bloody reprisals were exacted by the Germans at that instance.

Taking part in today's spectacular assault, it was announced, were American Rangers—named for Rogers' Rangers of Indian fighter fame in American colonial history—chosen "from among an avalanche of volunteers for commando training in the British Isles."
A communiqué from U. S. Army headquarters in the European theater, dispatched from London at 1:13 P. M. (6:15 A. M. CWT) announced:

"In the combined operations raid on the Dieppe area today, a detachment from the United States Ranger battalion is taking part with Canadian forces and British special service troops and a small detachment of fighting French."

"The operations are still in progress."

"Tanks landed in the center of the operation, and heavy fighting is proceeding."

Destroy Nazi Battery

The communiqué said allied troops attacking on the right flank destroyed a six-gun German battery, blew up an ammunition dump and then re-embarked.

A landing party on the left flank was initially repulsed but later carried the beach by assault, the bulletin said.

Hours after the start of the attack, the German radio announced: "Whether there are still British troops in the town or harbor of Dieppe or whether they now are only on both sides of the town along the coast could not be ascertained here at this moment."

Dispatches from Folkestone on the English Channel said air activity on a major scale swirled over the channel this afternoon as the Commandos pressed the attack.

Big formations of RAF planes flashed through the skies toward Dieppe and the roll of gunfire continued.

Assault Led by Tanks
The Germans said the assault was led by tanks and backed up by strong air and naval forces.

The spectacular assault came as Russian headquarters declared that Adolf Hitler was draining reserves from all western Europe, leaving it vulnerable to allied invasion, to bolster his drive into the U. S. S. R.

A Soviet communiqué said the German armies had suffered 1,250,000 casualties since May 15, twice Russia's losses—and that Hitler had already shifted or mobilized nearly 1,500,000 reserves for service in Russia.

On the Soviet fighting front, the Russians acknowledged that Marshal Semyon Timoshenko's armies had been driven back in two critical salients in the battle for Stalingrad and that the Germans were knifing deeper into the Caucasus.

At mid-day, Red army headquarters said Russian troops had fallen back before reinforced Nazi columns near P'yatigorsk, in the central Caucasus, some 150 miles south of the German-occupied Malkop oil fields but declared they had driven off repeated Nazi attacks in the Krassnodar sector in the north.

The threat to Stalingrad increased sharply as massed German forces surged forward in the region below Kletska, 80 miles northwest of Stalingrad, and increased pressure above Kotelnikowski, 90 miles southwest of the Volga steel city.

TRAINED FOR WEEKS

By Rice Yahner

At the United States Rangers Battalion Headquarters, somewhere in Britain, Aug. 19—(AP)—The United States Rangers, Uncle Sam's new brand of fighting men who joined Canadian, British and fighting French Commandos today in the first A. E. F. invasion of Europe, had been training secretly for weeks under the tutelage of their seasoned British partners.

Their mentors are men who toss hand grenades across the dinner table and casually jump 20-foot cliffs and their American pupils have been taught to kill with the cunning of the Indian and the ruthlessness of a gangster.

I was the first American newspaperman to visit one of their camps when they were putting the finishing touches on training for such ventures as today's raid on Dieppe.

They have climbed 4,000-foot mountains through forests never before penetrated by man. They have been on speed marches of 36 miles in half a day time and again.

They have practiced beach land-

Army, Navy, to Reopen War Plant

ings while rifle and machinegun fire bored holes through the poddies of the men manning the boats.

They have taken both their tactics and their name from Rogers' Rangers, one of America's most romantic fighting outfits who, under Robert Rogers, stalked northern America in the French and Indian war.

Taught to Kill

Like them, the new American Rangers have been taught to kill expertly and silently with their bare hands as well as with guns and grenades.

They are as much at home on sea as on land.

Just to show them what a trained Ranger is expected to do, their British instructors stalked a deer in the forest and when the stag was surrounded a big Scot leaped upon him and killed him with a knife.

A sentry's throat can be slit in the same, silent way.
On my visit I rowed with them in a collapsible canvas boat to a landing on a beach where tracer bullets from a British Bren gun were spewing so close to the gun-wales you almost were able to reach out your hands to them.

Land mines and grenades splattered us with mud and water. Rifle tracer bullets sizzled by so close that one punctured a mess kit slung from a Ranger's belt. Another nicked the guard of a bayonet atop one soldier's pack.

Earlier in their training, a hand grenade had landed, fuse smoking, in one Ranger boat. Private Clayton Schooley, 22, of Munising, Mich., picked up the sizzling bomb and with a shout of "overboard" flung it into the water.

He didn't know its explosive charge had been extracted.
Every Ranger was a volunteer from the United States forces in Britain eager for action, which they got before the enemy first felt their steel.

Charges UI Practices Religious Discrimination in School of Medicine

Chicago, Aug. 19—(AP)—Charges of religious discrimination affecting the admission of students to the University of Illinois' College of Medicine were made in a suit filed yesterday in Cook county Circuit court.

The suit sought compel university officials to admit Earl B. Zazove, 22, Chicago, a Northwest-ern university graduate who was awarded a legislative scholarship by State Rep. Robert Petrone of the 21st senatorial district.

The petition set forth that Zazove was refused admission to the freshman class after he had been notified early in July of the acceptance of his appointment. It charged that Zazove was barred because the university secretly maintained a religious quota.

Raymond B. Allen, executive dean of the university's Chicago colleges, declined to comment on the suit. Another school official said the freshman medical class will be limited to 166 students this fall and that applications for enrollment usually numbered between 400 and 500.

Church on Way From Thayer to Springfield

Thayer, Ill., Aug. 19—(AP)—A church started off down the road today from this village to Springfield, 22 miles away, with a police motorcycle escort.

It was a small, abandoned frame building jacked up on rollers for towing to Springfield where a neighborhood group plans to use it as a recreation center.

The 20 by 40 foot building had one room dismantled to allow passage of traffic on state highway No. 4.

Towed by tractor, it was due to arrive here in about three days.

Fairbanks Assigned to Commandos Unit

London, Aug. 19—(AP)—Lieut. Douglas Fairbanks, U. S. Navy, who has been in Britain for several weeks, is one of the American officers assigned to the staff of Lord Louis Mountbatten, head of the British Commandos, the United States headquarters disclosed today.

The announcement did not specify whether he participated in today's big-scale raid on Dieppe.

Middle East Might Be Site of United Nation's 2nd Front

Speculation Aroused by Recent Developments in This Theater

London, Aug. 19—(AP)—The infusion of new brains and new blood on Britain's precarious Middle Eastern front, coupled with the close attention Prime Minister Churchill gave it on his way to Moscow, stamped that battle theater in many British minds today as a zone of impending major action.

North Africa has immense strategic potentialities. It might become the United Nations' second front. With only a thin 80 miles separating his armies from Alexandria, on the other hand, Hitler scarcely could neglect that arm of his vast Middle Eastern pincer if his goal is to master the trans-Caucasus by winter.

Britons, therefore, weighed these sudden developments with some optimism and some anxiety.

1. Churchill's stop-over in Egypt en route to his talks with Joseph Stalin, during which he inspected the front at such close hand he came within earshot of the enemy and met virtually the whole "Who's Who" of the United Nations leadership in North Africa; Alexander New Commander

2. The announcement, swiftly following his visit, that General Sir Harold R. L. G. Alexander had been called to command in the Middle East in place of General Sir Claude J. E. Auchinleck;

3. The arrival in Egypt of new United States contingents, including ground staffs for the American Army Air Forces whose medium and heavy bombers already are in action and whose fighter planes have completed their last desert training.

Although in Alexander the British have picked an advocate of attack and surprise to match wits with the axis' wily Field Marshal Erwin Rommel, some of the misgivings arose over the fact that Britain once again had switched Middle East commanders.

"The process of selection by trial and error already has proved far too costly," commented the Daily Mail.

One unanswered question was whether Auchinleck had resigned, or was being given another post. No new assignment was announced for him and the war office offered no comment.

Cairo, Aug. 19—(AP)—A farewell message to the British eighth army from Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck disclosed today that in the last two months in Egypt Marshal Erwin Rommel had lost 10,000 of his axis troops in prisoners alone.

"In the last two weeks," the retiring Middle East commander told his forces, "you have stopped the enemy and forced him on the defensive."

The Egyptian battlefield remained quiet today as Gen. Sir Harold Alexander took up his new job as Britain's Middle East commander and as newly arrived United States troops bolstered the allied reserves for the next phase of the fight.

(Reuters reported in a Cairo dispatch that the new American force was the "biggest contingent so far.")

Says Americans Will Fight in Reds' Front

Moscow, Aug. 19.—(AP)—A broadcast statement attributed to W. Averell Harriman that Americans would be fighting on a front with the Red army was discussed today by the Russians.
Harriman, President Roosevelt's personal representative, spoke briefly into a microphone for recording and later broadcast when he and Prime Minister Churchill arrived at Moscow Aug. 12.

German Raider Off

marine apparently was damaged in the first attack. The United States plane dove again, this time finished the submarine with direct bomb shots.

At the same time, radio reports purportedly from British Guiana were heard saying RAF planes based on that British South American territory, attacked a second submarine off the northern coast of South America yesterday, and sighted a third.

Meanwhile, a naval spokesman said an axis surface raider prowling the South Atlantic had been sighted near the Brazilian island of Trindade, 1,000 miles off the coast several days ago.

Demonstrations Continue
Throughout the country, in fervent demonstrations, Brazilians called upon the government to avenge the affront to Brazil's honor and the apparent loss of several hundred lives, including those of women and children, in the recent wave of ship losses.

Lieut. Col. Poao Pinto Pacca, speaking for War Minister Gen. Eurico Gaspar Dutra, told one crowd here that the country was at the "gates of war" and the army was ready to obey the order of the chiefs who direct this nation.

Demonstrations against the axis mounted so dangerously that the police here ordered all bars and cafes closed at 9 p. m. daily and advised residents to be in their homes by 10 p. m.

Official announcements showed only 185 persons known to be saved of the 836 listed as being aboard the five vessels which were sunk. There was a report, however, that several lifeboats with survivors had landed on an isolated beach.

Both President Getulio Vargas and Foreign Minister Oswaldo Aranha violently denounced axis "piracy" and gave hints that strong measures would be adopted.

Roundups of axis fifth columnists received new impetus. In the city of Juiz de Fora about 100 alleged axis sympathizers were arrested.

Navy Announces 23

The United States had won "sufficient successes" at sea to reinforce and supply the assault troops for what may be weeks or months of "extremely bitter" fighting in the islands.

"Japanese units which were in the Solomons at the opening of operations either have been sunk or have fled to the Caroline islands," said this dispatch to the New Zealand Press Association.

American naval forces were reported deployed in anticipation of a showdown battle with the Japanese for the seaways vital to holding, or broadening, the wedge already dug into the enemy's network of advance island bases.

Class Party

The Young People's class of the Methodist Sunday school taught by Rev. T. B. Reeves enjoyed a class party Thursday night in the church yard. The lovely new fireplace was used for the first time. About fifty were present. The group was divided into three teams namely Red, White and Blue. Captains were chosen for each team. Red, Adrain Kersten; White, Mrs. Margaret Patterson; Blue, Mrs. Jule Baker. The Red team won in the scavenger hunt which took them all over town. After they returned to the church yard someone suggested that they guess how many stones were in the fireplace. Many guesses were made and some very large numbers were submitted. Mrs. Roy Shoemaker was the winner, her guess being 255 and there are 256 stones.

Officers were elected for the ensuing year:
President, Mrs. Blanche Durkes; vice president, Cecil Emmons; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Evelyn Shoemaker. After the election of officers a wienie roast was enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Luther Durkes and Adrain Kersten were the committee in charge. The committee for the next party is Mr. and Mrs. Jule Baker, Mrs. Charles Ives and Miss Doris Howard.

Enjoyed Week End

"Aren't we lucky!"

Think how much longer
our tires can last!

How to make tires go farther than they ever went before:

1. Get mileage estimate. Your Standard Oil Dealer has a measuring gauge to estimate the approximate mileage left in your tires. You can rate your tires according to condition—best, next best, etc.
2. Switch your tires. This is very important, as the rate of wear varies greatly from wheel to wheel. Your weakest tire will last a lot longer if it is placed where it gets the least wear.
3. Use poorest tire as spare; next poorest on left front, where it gets only 14% of total wear; next best on right front (19% wear); next best left rear (29% wear); and best tire on right rear, where it takes 38% of the total wear.
4. Repeat this method of tire switching every 2500-3000 miles to even up the wear. Then, by reasonable driving and proper inflation you can be sure to get the full mileage from your tires.

*Older tires should be switched every 2500 miles to get maximum mileage from the set.

To make your car last long, run well, team up with these two great standbys...
